Stewardship Nugget

By Herb Miller

Many Americans live with two opposite feelings. On one hand, they want to experience meaning and purpose in their lives. On the other hand, they often feel that they are running on empty. In his classic novel, Les Miserables, Victor Hugo tells us how to eliminate that second feeling. The bishop befriends Jean Valjean and gives him lodging. Valjean repays that kindness by stealing the bishop's valuable candlesticks. After the bishop reports the theft, the police magistrate questions Valjean in the bishop's presence. As the interrogation progresses, Valjean seems headed for jail. At that point, the bishop unexpectedly retracts his charges and offers a plausible reason for why the candlesticks are missing. Jean Valjean is amazed. When he and the bishop are alone, he says, "Why did you do that? You know I am guilty." The bishop replies, "Life is for giving."

Why do churches receive an offering in their worship services? Some people say, "Because the church needs the money." That is only part of the answer. Even if a wealthy benefactor fully underwrote our congregation's expenses, we would still need to provide people with the opportunity to give an offering in our worship services. Weekly giving teaches us—and reminds us because we keep forgetting—that life without unselfish giving is life without meaning and purpose. Victor Hugo is right. Life is for giving.

Which God Shall We Elect? Loren Mead says he often asks this question in many church audiences across America: "Are you rich?" "The usual audience response is denial.

'Raise your hand if you are rich.' Most hands stay down, and only slowly and reluctantly, one by one they go up. Some refuse to participate." "Objectively the question should be easy to answer. I have never asked the question in any audience in which every person present is not rich. Some are absurdly rich in comparison to 99 percent of those in the world. And others, just by being Americans, are probably better off than most of the world's population. . ." "You see, wealth. . . is the natural condition of all North Americans. . ." "Why do we work so hard to hide the fact that we are rich? Why hide it even from ourselves? Why does our wealth embarrass us?" "Somewhere deep inside us is a place that cannot come to terms with what it means to be what we are. This is a spiritual question, and it is the one spiritual question all Americans share. It may be the one that most threatens us." (Financial Meltdown in the Mainline. Loren B Mead)

In the deep places of our souls, we know that Jesus was right when he said, "No one can serve two masters; for a slave will either hate the one and love the other or be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and wealth" (Matthew 6:24). In each of our lives, two candidates are running for election as president. Each day of each week, each of us must decide which god to elect. The weekly offering in our worship service helps us to make the right choice. Stewardship Nuggets: For Newsletters, Worship Bulletins, and Sermons by Herb Miller. Nurse of the Week - Pat Horne

I hope you have been reading about parish nurses in the paper lately. They are becoming very important in all churches. The churches of today are serving their congregation more by caring for the body and the soul. Thanks to our volunteer nurses who offer their help to us freely. Give Pat a call when you have a health question or problem.

Faith-Nurturing Family Activities - Suggestion - No. 6

This week's tip: Celebrations - Birthdays can be an all-day event. One child is special, and emphasize that. On holidays focus on giving to others. Each child could pick out a gift for their siblings. On Easter decorate together and invite another family to help. Tell the stories that make that holiday meaningful and focus on others in practical ways. Traditions are powerful ways to bond and cement what's important. Maybe granddad could tell the story "Twas the Night Before Christmas" on Christmas Eve and before gifts are opened on Christmas morning read the Bible's account of Jesus' birth.

Meal 6:15 p.m. Reservations required by Tuesday noon

Be sure to indicate if your children will eat in the Pizza Café or eat the regular dinner when you make your reservations. Pizza Café for children/youth.

Feed the Hungry Ministry

Thank you to the Service Seekers Women’s Circle for sponsoring the Feed the Hungry Ministry on Saturday, October 25th. Fifty-seven guests and twenty members were fed spaghetti, salad, bread and dessert. The cooks were Richard Hydell, Herb Dowless and Bob Nelson who with the help of a small miracle made some extra fast spaghetti sauce. Maureen Regan, Becky Ward, Jean Crouch, Dot Davis, Vada and Julie Dowless, Donna Williams, Susan Williams, Sharon Pittman, Iris Moore, Edie Duncan, Harriette Lovin, Dot Wilkerson, Janice Nelson and Rosemary Long all pitched in to help get the meal ready and served the meal or were table hostesses. Rosemary Long gave the devotion and blessed the meal. Vada Dowless was the greeter.

The Tweens’ mission project, Undies for Sundays, was a great success. The underwear for adults was distributed at Saturday’s meal for the hungry and the recipients were very grateful. Jackets, gloves, scarves and hats were also given away.

In November, bag lunches will be handed out on Sat., Nov. 29. If you would like to help by fixing sandwiches or baking brownies please contact Donna Valenti 738-9706. Men’s jackets are still needed to be handed out at this same time. There will not be a Feed the Hungry in December in order to give our members time to be with their families.
